Dear Friends

We have had a generally warm, dry spring and as you read this, the summer days are nearing their maximum length at the summer solstice – June 21st.

I rejoice in these long warm days especially, as my birthday is very close to this date. My daughter was born very near to the winter solstice, with the coldest and darkest days, and this is often a topic of conversation that comes up in our birthday celebrations, whether a summer BBQ or a celebratory tea huddled around a cosy fire indoors.

It is mistaken to think the solstice is a whole day. According to the Royal Museums Greenwich website, where the Royal Observatory is (rmg.co.uk) the solstice is an actual moment in time.

They say the Summer Solstice is 'in reality an exact moment in time that falls upon that day. This moment comes when whichever hemisphere you're in is most tilted towards the Sun.' In 2025 the summer solstice will occur on Saturday 21st June at 03.42 BST (02.42 GMT).

Pentecost, or 'Whitsun' as it used to be known, falls this year on Sunday 8th June. It is always 50 days after Easter Sunday and is recognised by many to be the birthday of the church. But just like the Solstice the birth of the church was not a day but a moment.

In Chapter 2 of the Acts of the Apostles in the New Testament, the first day of Pentecost is described with the promised gift of the Holy Spirit. It was the moment that the fearful and somewhat confused followers of Jesus became emboldened and empowered in living life in a new way.

Despite the threats and dangers of persecution, these first followers of Christ – who were soon to be called Christians – changed their outlook and values to live in the light of God's radical love for every person.

In Acts, 2 verse 42, it says they lived 'devoted to the apostles' teaching and fellowship, to the breaking of bread and the prayers.' The church has been seeking to do this in the best way they can for some 2000 years now. It has not always succeeded. But then the church is made up from people who recognise they are sinners and fall short of the glory of God (Romans 3 verse 23).

At Pentecost this year, in church we will celebrate again the gift of the Holy Spirit as God's presence with us. The Spirit who convicts us where we fall short; brings forgiveness through Christ's death and resurrection; and empowers us to live better and more faithful lives.

You are warmly welcome to join us in church for Pentecost. Come and learn with us about the amazing grace of God and his Spirit. Details of our services can be found as usual elsewhere in the magazine.

Best wishes, Revd John Saxon

BOOK REVIEW

Be Still - Brian Heasley

What a great title for a book about Prayer! I've been looking for a book to encourage me into daily good practice for a time and this relatively easy book to read has given me the necessary "tools" to enable me to develop a better daily prayer practice.

Brian Heasley uses both every day situations as well as biblical illustrations to relate how in our very busy lives, it is possible to find times to "be with God."

He encourages the reader to find a quiet space to develop a relationship with God. It could be in a special space where we live; a chair in a room in which we can find a regular time to sit and be still with God, or it could be whilst taking a daily walk that we find the right space to let go of our busy lives and to turn to God for daily renewal in him.

Brian talks about his own problems and how he found God after very difficult early life experiences, which are threaded into the book, helping the reader to feel God is very approachable; not a being who is unaware of the problems we all encounter, but someone who in Jesus has experienced life's joys and difficulties. Jesus, we read in the Bible, prayed daily for guidance from God in living his life and Brian has created within this book a very real, personal God who is there for us all, and is waiting for us to meet up with him and develop our own relationship with him.

"Be Still" has helped me to realise the importance of finding time for a daily interaction with a living Lord, and encouraged me to be aware that I can find time and space within my daily life to develop a relationship with a God who cares about me.

Brian in his book "Be Still" has encouraged me to feel that God is accessible and given me ways to develop a daily interaction with Him in a narrative that is both practical and supportive.

I would recommend reading this book as it has helped me to approach prayer in a positive down to earth manner, making me realise that a daily time (no matter how short) with our Lord is of importance to Him and to me too.

STAINED GLASS WINDOWS

Many of the church's windows are deteriorating and require extensive and costly restoration, estimated to exceed £160,000. While the chancel windows have been recently restored, the remaining work still demands significant funding.

The Parochial Church Council is actively fundraising, with support from the Friends of Dedham Church and potential grants, but additional donations from parishioners and visitors are urgently needed. We hope that you will wish to donate.

LIVING FOR THE MOMENT....

As I write this, I have just returned from an Open the Book assembly where myself and two volunteers led the story of 'Double your Money' (otherwise known as the Parable of the Talents Matthew 25).

Such a wonderful performance by Dedham Primary School's year 3 volunteers who read so clearly and enthusiastically expressed their roles and speaking parts so well.

For those who don't know what it is, Open the Book is a wonderful ministry whereby church volunteers go into a primary schools to act out bible stories with pupil volunteers from different year groups to the whole school.

We are always in need of volunteers, so if you are interested in joining the teams, do get in touch with myself or the parish office.

The Children and Young People's ministry in Dedham has had a very busy few weeks with a fantastic, albeit a little cold, DJB youth group trip to Frinton during Easter week. We still enjoyed cricket, games and fish and chips!

We have lots planned over the summer weeks with our usual get togethers on the third Sunday of the month 6.15-7.30pm in the Duchy Barn following the Six Beats One Story series.

On top of this, we also have plans for a trip to the Therapy Farm in Dedham, an outdoor swimming social and litter picks. Do contact me if your child (aged 11 (year 6) or above is interested in joining).

Our junior church sessions continue each Sunday except the first Sunday of the month (when we have Rise and Shine altogether service), meeting in the Duchy Barn during Sunday morning services (ages 3-11).

We are currently following a great series called the Biggest Story - have a look here for an example of the teaching. https://youtu.be/FAzQIA_rFIs

Finally, it is with sadness that I announce this as my final article as Children and Young People's worker for the Dedham magazine. My last day in the post is 23rd June and I want to thank all the volunteers in the parish for everything you do for the Church and for children and young people's ministry.

My last 12 months have been such a joy and I can certainly say I have lived for the moment - lots to remember, coordinate and juggle but the accomplishments and achievements far outweigh the challenge of any drawbacks.

The role is now being advertised, take a look here - and if you feel this could be something you'd like to explore further get in touch!

Saturday 10th May saw the Service of Dedication of the new organ, and the much anticipated recital by Jonathan Scott.

The Dedication of the organ was the culmination of many years of hard work, and to set it apart for the worship of God was indeed a very emotional moment for those involved in the project.

It was wonderful to have Bishop Roger to lead the service, and the augmented choir sang beautifully, accompanied in the anthem by Andrew Caskie, (who brought some of the Nicholson team with him).

Jonathan Scott gave a most uplifting evening with a recital which showcased the organ spectacularly well. Music by Mozart, J.S. Bach, Widor, Saint-Saens etc, with a nod to the VE Day celebrations, music by Holst and Elgar was included in the programme.

Jonathan introduced each piece in a wonderfully engaging way, his stunning performance was projected onto a big screen so that the audience could watch the mastery of his hands and feet, which was the source of much amazement to many.

Thanks to the team from Eye Parish Church (with whom the organ group have worked closely throughout the project) for the loan of the screen and projector.

All in all, it was a dazzling evening, Jonathan was clearly very impressed with the organ, saying that it was hard to believe that such a relatively small organ with just 27 stops could produce such a wealth of sounds. Testament indeed to the fine work of Mr J J Binns in 1902 in making the pipes, and to Nicholson & Co for their fine new organ.

It was indeed an evening that will live long in the memory of those lucky enough to be present.

We look forward to welcoming Jonathan back in the near future.

Thanks to the generosity of the anonymous sponsors of the evening, making this was a free event to say a huge thank you to those who have made this project happen.

In the Presence of Exile ... When God Becomes the Homeland

When a person is caught between truth and emotion, questions swirl within - questions too heavy to speak aloud, yet impossible to ignore: "Why me? Why is all this happening to me? Why did I lose my freedom? And what is freedom really?"

In those moments, the mind becomes a shattered mirror, reflecting fragments of a reality too painful to bear. One tries to escape... to forget. Some turn to substances - drugs, alcohol, pills - seeking relief, but finding only more emptiness.

And when all paths seem closed, one road remains forever open: the one that leads to God. A person begins to speak to their Lord - as a friend, a father, a brother - searching for answers in silence, in prayer, in the stillness of the soul.

Outwardly, nothing may seem to have changed, but in truth, God is there, He has never left. He teaches, guides, sends signs - messages that only a heart willing to see can recognise.

I longed for my homeland, for Africa - for the scent of its soil, the warmth of its sun. I asked God, "Will I ever see it again?"

Instead of a direct answer, I met a stranger - someone who felt oddly familiar. For the first time, I wasn't shy. We spoke, and he invited me to a church.

I entered the church as an outsider... and walked out reborn. I prayed, I danced, I sang. There, I found the answers I had been searching for: peace, connection, a sense of belonging. I met a who prayed for me and welcomed me as if I were her own son.

And every time I visit a church, no matter where it is or how different, I find the same peace. It's as if its walls radiate divine energy - a quiet whisper from God reminding me that everything will be alright. These spaces become sacred vessels of reassurance, charging the soul with faith and calm.

Each visit becomes a journey back into myself. Though I remain a journalist by nature, always inquisitive and asking more, I now know one truth for certain: God has always been with me. He is my homeland.

A word of wisdom:

Every path that leads through faith ends in peace. And no door opened to God ever fails to let in the light - even when the heart is lost in the darkness of exile.

ARDLEIGH SURGERY NEWS

Staff Updates

In April, we were pleased to welcome two new GP Partners: Dr Kelechi Anumnu and Dr Michelle O'Carroll. Historically, Ardleigh and Dedham have operated successfully as a three-partner practice. However, due to the significant increase in demand for GP services, we have expanded to a four-partner model to improve resilience and service delivery.

March also marked the retirement of Dr Lisa Gladwin and Sister Zoe Lacey. Both have made outstanding contributions to the practice and will be greatly missed by patients and staff alike. Sister Harrison will be on maternity leave from the 1st of June 2025. We wish her all the best during this special time.

Blood Tests

At present, we are unable to offer blood test appointments at the surgery due to our phlebotomist being on long-term sick leave. A temporary replacement had been arranged, but they have since decided to retire from the NHS. In the meantime, patients requiring blood tests are being directed to the phlebotomy clinic at the local walk-in centre. We appreciate your understanding and patience during this time.

Anima Online Triage

We would like to thank all our patients for embracing our new online triage system, Anima, which launched in late January. So far, 4,800 patients out of our 7,500 registered population have signed up, and many are actively using the system.

While Anima has helped streamline appointment triaging, demand remains extremely high. On Mondays, we regularly receive over 120 requests in the first four hours of opening.

Zero Tolerance Policy

We regret to report a recent increase in unacceptable behaviour towards our staff, including shouting, swearing, and even physical aggression.

Our reception team plays a vital role under very challenging circumstances, and such conduct will not be tolerated. We kindly ask all patients to treat our staff with the respect they deserve.

Medication Requests

We regularly receive multiple requests for various medications. Please be aware that your GP is not authorised or qualified to prescribe all medications available.

Two of the most common requests are for weight loss medications and ADHD medications.

- Weight Loss Injections: These are currently not available for general prescription through the GP, unless they are specifically indicated for the management of uncontrolled diabetes.

- ADHD Medications: We are no longer continuing prescriptions for ADHD medications. This is because adult ADHD prescribing has now been transferred to the Suffolk GP Federation, and care for children has been transferred to GPPC (GP Primary Choice).

Patients currently receiving ADHD medication through the surgery will be gradually transferred to these dedicated services. We understand this may be frustrating, but these changes are necessary to ensure patients receive the most appropriate specialist care.

Dedham Parish Council: Annual Residents Meeting – May 12th 2025.

Councillor Bourn, Chair of the Parish Council, presented the annual report outlining the Council's activities over the past year. A financial report was also delivered by Councillor Harrison. Both reports are available on the Parish Council website.

Following the reports, an open forum was held, allowing residents to raise any issues of concern.

Topics raised by residents included: The proposed dog park at the Munnings Museum, the condition of kerbsides on Crown Street, Outdoor tables and chairs used by businesses that obstruct access for wheelchair users and those with guide dogs and Parking issues on the High Street and Mill Lane beyond the bridge.

There was also concern regarding the Conservative Party newsletter Dedham Matters, particularly about conflicting information related to parking proposals. The Council's information from NEPP (North Essex Parking Partnership) appears to contradict statements made in the newsletter. Councillor Bourn will write to the relevant councillors regarding this issue and their absence from recent meetings.

Councillors assured residents that all points raised will be investigated, and updates will be provided at the June Council meeting.

Personnel

A personnel group will be formed with its status and remit to be decided.

Concern was expressed that for the third successive Council meeting there was no report from represented councillors for Dedham on Colchester City Council (CCC) and Essex County Council (ECC)

Parish Plan discussion.

The Council agreed to the proposal to deliver a Parish Plan and that initially the Parish Council would act as the steering group for the plan.

It was hoped that the development of the plan would take no more than 6 months.

Finance.

All proposed financial transactions approved and Council agreed to sign the Annual Governance forms which review the effectiveness of the system of internal control for the Internal Auditor.

Planning Report.

From June a new Planning Group will be in operation to which members of the public are welcome and the first such meeting will be held at 6pm on on Monday 2nd of June in the Duchy Barn

Planning Applications.

The Council noted that one application included a comment from a neighbour. In its response, the Council will simply acknowledge this comment.

No other planning applications received comments from the Council.

A late application concerning a proposed retail development on Birchwood Road, adjacent to the hotel, was received. It was agreed that this will be discussed at the next meeting, subject to time availability.

Litter Pick.

The Council welcomed the proposal from the church youth group to institute a regular litter pick in the village.

Parking.

Report was given on a recent meeting with North Essex Parking Partnership (NEPP) and was noted that there was no evidence to substantiate the comments made in the Dedham Conservative newsletter regarding possible changes to parking in the High Street and Crown Street.

Infrastructure.

It is planned to tidy up the main car park. The Council are concerned that at present NEPP does not appear to have the budget to undertake the necessary repainting of the yellow lines in the village.

Council agreed to tree work on the playing fields and also work on the exterior of the Sports Pavilion with a view that part of the cost for this is covered by community funds from Colchester City Council.

Communications.

Report was given on progress of planned new website.

Date of the next meeting, Monday June 2nd, 6.30pm at Duchy Barn.

MIDSUMMER'S HERE

June is the month of roses, and my garden is filled with a huge range from clusters of small white double flowers to obelisks clothed in single pink climbers. There are roses on the front of the house and over an arch as you walk to the front door. Every border and bed has at least one rose, ranging from white to pink to red, from cream to yellow. With so many, I will be busy deadheading them throughout the summer to keep them blooming.

The roses are complemented by early large-flowered clematis in pink and deep purple, as well as alliums, foxgloves, delphiniums and the white forms of valerian and rosebay willowherb.

My bees are going mad on the pyracantha hedge that floats above one of my fences. As we approach the longest day of the year, there's plenty to do and even time to relax and enjoy the fruits of our labours.

The best way to deadhead your roses is to use your secateurs and cut right back down the stem to the next leaf or bud. This will prompt a side shoot to grow and eventually another flower. You can deadhead other plants of course, both annuals and perennials. The production of flowers is part of how flowers reproduce. When the flowers die, they leave behind seeds (essentially the plant's eggs) from which more flowers are born.

Once seeds are produced, the plant thinks its job is done and has no further need to produce flowers. Deadheading therefore keeps the plant in a state of perpetually giving birth (flowering). I think I might be a bit mad about that if I were a plant and is probably why I come in from the garden covered in thorn scratches.

Magnificent Wisteria

Although some plants will only ever flower once, deadheading will also work on asters, campanulas, delphiniums, daylilies and scabious. It is especially important for sweet peas, which is why you should pick as many as you can whenever you can so that seed pods aren't produced.

I love aubrieta for its vibrant purple flowers, which look great against late flowering daffodils. It offers early nectar and pollen for my bees, but by now it can be looking a bit tatty so needs cutting back. Lightly trim your aubrieta if it still forms a quite neat mound, but if it's straggly with an almost bald centre then it needs to be cut back harder to within a couple of inches of the base of the plant. Make sure to keep it well watered after cutting back and it will put on fresh foliage within a few weeks.

Cut back perennial Oriental poppies too after flowering, taking them back to ground level. Water – you can feed them with poultry pellets or tomato food if you like – and you'll get new foliage and perhaps even some new blooms. Hardy geraniums (not the tender pelargoniums) can also be chopped back now too.

My wisteria plants have been magnificent this year, and their powerful scent seems to reach all round the garden. Once they've finished showing off though, it's time for their first prune of the year this month. Wisteria produces its beautiful racemes of purple, white or pink flowers on new growth, so to encourage lots of flowers next year, I'll need to cut back the whippy new shoots that have grown this season. Prune back to the sixth bud from the base of the shoot. If you're not sure, cut lightly as you'll do a second prune in winter when it's easier to see what you're doing.

I put some garden pinks (Dianthus) around the beds last year and they are beginning to bulk up so I can take some softwood cuttings. Just pull a non-flowering shoot with four pairs of leaves off the plant using your thumb and forefinger. Use a sharp knife to cut below the lowest pair of leaves to make a cutting 5-10cm long. Remove the lower leaves and dip the base of the cutting in hormone rooting powder or gel. Make a hole in a pot of compost, insert the cutting so the lowest pair of leaves is just above the top of the soil, then water. Pop it in a propagator or under a plastic bag and place somewhere warm, and it should root within 2-4 weeks.

Although it can be a busy time in the garden right now, don't forget to take time to soak up the summer sun this month.

Suffolk Chronicle - Saturday 27 August 1825

CRICKET.—Last week a match of Cricket was played at Dedham between eleven of the Dedham Club (three only of whom are under the age of 21) and the youths at Dedham School, which was won by the latter with eleven wickets to go down. So confident were the Dedham Club of victory, that they entered the field with ribbons in their hats. This was not merely an ostentatious, but, as it happened, a premature display.—After this game, another was played (a single innings) and the School boys beat them again, with one wicket to go down. The following is the score of the first game:—

Dedham 1st Innings - 30, 2nd Innings - 37
Total - 67.

Dedham School - 1st Innings - 27, 2nd Innings - 11 Total - 68.

Oxford University and City Herald - Saturday 30 July 1825

VALUABLE FREEHOLD ESTATES,

Offering an excellent Opportunity for the Investment of Capital, at ARDLEIGH AND DEDHAM, IN THE COUNTY OF ESSEX.

To be SOLD by AUCTION, By W. K. DAWSON, On Saturday, the 29th day of October, 1825, At 3 o'clock in the Afternoon, At the CUPS INN, Colchester, Lot 2. Contains 34 ACRES, more or less, of superior Meadow Land, situate in the rich vale of Dedham; now in the occupation of Mr. Wm. Bruce, at the yearly rent of £15 (£2,000). Tenant at will.

Over the past few weeks, we have begun developing a sensory room in school. This space will provide a safe environment for our children who have sensory processing differences or other special educational needs. Spending time in the room will help children to regulate their emotions, enable different sensory experiences and can be used for relaxation and de-stressing. Thank you to Councillor Lewis Barber for securing the funding for this project.

2025 marks the school's 200th birthday and we have planned a number of events and activities to mark this. Our school pond has now been created (photos to follow next month), plans for an art trail are underway and communication with Dedham in Massachusetts has begun.

Children have been excited to receive letters from the other side of the Atlantic and they have been busy sharing information about their own lives and our school.

Although organising a school trip is unfortunately impractical, the wonder of technology is bringing America into the classroom and despite the time difference, we're hoping to fit in an online assembly or two with our pen-pals before the end of the term!

MR BURTON

In the Welsh town of Port Talbot, 1942, Richard Jenkins (Harry Lawtey, Industry, Joker: Folie à Deux) lives as a wayward schoolboy, caught between the pressures of his struggling family, a devastating war, and his own ambitions.

However, a new opportunity arises when Richard's natural talent for drama catches the attention of his teacher, Philip Burton (BAFTA winner Toby Jones, Mr Bates vs. The Post Office). Taking Richard under his wing, the young man thrives thanks to Philip's strict tutelage and the guidance of kindly landlady, Ma Smith (Academy Award nominee Lesley Manville, The Crown). However, as the acting world comes within Richard's reach, the burden of his past risks holding him back forever.

ARDLEIGH CHURCH BELLS.

The installation is now complete and we have had one very successful practice on the ten bells. On VE day we rang the bells for half an hour just prior to the lighting of the village beacon as part of the village celebrations. Bell ringing is a fascinating hobby, a service to the church and a gentle work out for both mind and body. We have ringers from around nine or ten years old up to ringers in their nineties. If any one is interested in learning to ring bells then please contact me on 07817 094426.

This year, the Royal British Legion organised a 350km charity cycle to commemorate both Victory in Europe (VE) Day and the Liberation of the Netherlands. The event honoured the official Liberation Day and raised essential funds to support the Armed Forces community, ensuring they receive the lifelong assistance and services they rightly deserve

Day 1 Nijmegen – Nijmegen (approx. 118km, 545m)

Starting from Nijmegen, the cycle followed the path of the Rhineland Offensive, the pivotal final battle for Liberation of the Netherlands via Groesbeek Canadian War Cemetery before heading south to Ysselsteyn German war cemetery with a highlight stop at the Overloon Museum.

Day 2 Nijmegen – Arnhem (approx. 73.8km, 438m)

This day followed the key landing sites of the Airborne divisions that were pivotal in securing freedom, as well as a visit to the inspirational Freedom Museum.

Day 3 Arnhem – Wageningen (approx. 72.3km, 404m)

The final day followed the path of British Airborne Troops to Wageningen (known as Liberation town), The tour culminated with the Liberation Day Festival, a Dutch annual fete,

On Saturday the 10th of May, Arin Andrews organised a stall on the Royal Square, manned by the regular Poppy Appeal volunteers to raise funds for the British Legion.

VE metal pins were available along with stickers for the children and tasty cupcakes, all for a small donation. It was a very successful event which raised £780 for the RBL.

PICNICS AND SPARKLING OPERA RETURN TO ESSEX'S COUNTRY HOUSES THIS SUMMER.

Wild Arts, our very own Essex-based opera company, will return to Layer Marney Tower and Kelvedon Hall this summer with not one but two fantastic fully-staged opera productions.

Conducted by Wild Arts Artistic director Orlando Jopling and performed by a cast of top professional singers with an orchestra drawn from the UK's finest chamber musicians, these performances will be the perfect summer treat.

Brand new for this year, and receiving its premiere performance at The Essex Summer Opera Festival at Layer Marney Tower, is a production of Tchaikovsky's Eugene Onegin, directed by Dominic Dromgoole, who was formerly Artistic Director of Shakespeare's Globe. A stunning exploration of life, death, love, and pride in pre-revolutionary Russia, the opera will be performed in period costume with a dazzling new English translation.

On the bill alongside this is a revival of Wild Arts' hit 2023 production of Donizetti's The Elixir of Love. With all the zip and joie de vivre of the original, director Guido Martin-Brandis has relocated this riotous tale of lovers and luck-chasing liars to a 1950's seaside, with a mischievous English translation.

And as has become tradition at Wild Arts performances, alongside the music you can enjoy picnics on the lawns of these beautiful country-house venues.

the years the club took part in various competitions and won many cups. For a number of years, the club held a charity competition with 20 local teams taking part. Some players also played Carpet Bowls for the Essex County side.

ACT, REDUCE, SAVE.

Knowing what was to come, would you have done everything in your power to prevent COVID-19?

OF COURSE YOU WOULD HAVE!

The volume of CO2 produced each day from the entire population is putting the planet in danger. To avoid a climate pandemic, that will have critical consequences on our future, we need to ACT now.

To REDUCE our carbon footprint, let's start with improving our homes. HIGAIN Termo Clima is an established UK company that has been installing renewable technology solutions since 1988.

We can offer a result-based planning consultancy service ranging from application to design to structure; and will thereby reduce the CO2 produced by your home, improve your energy efficiency and SAVE you money - as well as the planet.
